Up and In: Seven Keys to Unlocking Your Potential

Steve Kubicek

Steve Kubicek leveraged his Agriculture Economics degree and experience on an Oklahoma family farm to launch a sixteen-year career in the global fertilizer industry including co-directing a U.S. dealer sales network and leading the international sales and business development activities of a global fertilizer company. His ability to develop and lead top-performing sales teams landed him another twelve year career in the copper industry with the firm’s sister company, Freeport McMoRan Copper and Gold.

While serving this Fortune 500 Company as Vice President of Sales and Marketing, he personally negotiated the company’s long-term commercial agreements and oversaw billions of dollars in annual sales. With nearly three decades of U.S. and international corporate executive experience, he traveled to more than twenty-five countries, served on the Board of Directors of the Copper Club and on the Executive Advisory Committee for the International Copper Association. Following early retirement he began pursuing personal interests including writing the inspiring motivational book Up and In: Seven Keys to Unlocking Your Potential published in May of 2013. His first novel, Visibly Struck based on the true experiences of George Washington, is scheduled for release in November. An ordained deacon and speaker, his passion is to inspire and motivate. He believes that the lessons of experience are precious gifts to be shared for the encouragement of others.

Up and In: Seven Keys to Unlocking Your Potential* - Book Description:

Up and In is an inspiring, self-mentoring resource based on the encouraging stories of a successful corporate executive, ordained deacon, and speaker. With gentle humor, uplifting anecdotes, and inspiring quotes woven throughout, Up and In takes readers on a rich, rewarding, and meaningful journey of reflection, discovery, and transformation. Resplendent with simple truths and powerful personal testimony, timeless Scripture and timely insights, Up and In presents an exceptional collection of 42 daily readings designed to encourage, challenge, renew, and uplift. An inventive, inspiring, and invaluable resource, Up and In has garnered high advance praise, including: “one of the most encouraging books that I have read...practical and filled with pearls of wisdom”; “a great personal resource”; “a breath of fresh air.” Uplifting and affirming, Up and In addresses such issues as: uncovering true worth and potential; confronting damaging thinking and habits; developing the tools to rebound from setbacks; outlining the path for discovering significance and more. With the deft touch of a true storyteller and an unmistakable faith, author Steve Kubicek created a book that is anything but an ordinary self-help guide: with its conversational, inviting, and warm tone, Up and In is part good friend/trusted confidant/wise-mentor-in-a-book, part road map to a meaningful life, part inspiring companion—and wholly enriching. Moving and motivational, thoughtful and thought-provoking, Up and In is an extraordinary —and extraordinarily valuable—resource.

Quote
Of the Day

“As an adolescent I aspired to lasting fame, I craved factual certainty, and I thirsted for a meaningful vision of human life - so I became a scientist. This is like becoming an archbishop so you can meet girls.”
